A One to One dining idea

A new dining concept opened its doors in Abu Dhabi last month. The Village Club Restaurant, part of the One to One Hotel, is the first phase of a fully fledged recreation club, with a mix of live entertainment and Arabian style cuisines fused with contemporary barbeque style food options served in a buffet.

Guests can choose to sit on wooden chairs or on less conventional bean bags while enjoying their meal, listening to music or smoking shisha.

“Good food and great music - both are wonderful social glue,” says Rabih Feghali, One to One Hotel manager. “At The Village Club Restaurant, these can be enjoyed in the most fantastic setting. The menu we offer is complemented by an ever changing programme of a live mix of jazz, Arabic, blues and chill-out music to cater to a wide variety of patrons.”

The One to One is a four star boutique style hotel located within easy reach of the city’s commercial centre. It has 128 rooms and suites together with three fully equipped natural daylight meeting rooms and six cafés and restaurants. Two course business lunches are available for Dh79 or Dh99 for three courses.
